In selecting Joe Blackburn's successor Harlin county will be for Brown-Hardin Independent.

Coxey's army and Kelly's army and Frye's contingent are moving steadily toward Washington.

Rev. Geo. W. Deneke has withdrawn his motion for a new trial and accepts judgment against the railroad for $3,000.

Joe Wintemiss, a young traveling man, well-known in this section, died very suddenly in Louisville last Monday.

The crazy stampede last Friday night is conclusive proof that the citizens of Cloverport are living in a constant dread of fire. Nobly among our perilous and helpless condition any plainer than we, ourselves, do.

Between the immortal christian, W. C. F. Breckinridge, and the moral, ideal, C. C. Moore, the good people of the Seventh District of Kentucky will find it hard to make a choice next fall, when it comes to voting for a Congressman. Truly the citizens of the Seventh are to be pitted.

The fire fiend seems to continually pursue us, and it has only been by the best of fortune and quick work that we have escaped total destruction thus far. The drenched day will surely come, sooner or later, and then we shall see how easily and watch the devouring of our property and wealth, we will rue the day that we ever conceived the erection of water works.

Hos. J. S. Wortham, candidate for Congress in this district, attempted to make a speech at Brandenburg last Monday, but was overruled with no effect and he had to desert. He had a good house and there was much disappointment when it was found that he was unable to speak. The people seem anxious to hear what he has to say.

The greatest coal-miner strike the world has ever known was begun last Saturday. At that time the number of miners who walked out of the mines in the different parts of the United States aggregated 125,000 and since that time they have increased. The strike cost 3,000 men quit work in the Jellico district in Eastern Kentucky, Monday, though the men in the Western portion of the state are still at work.

The unsettled feeling among the laboring classes of the people in many parts of the country, is giving thoughtful men much concern. The strike seems to be confined to the large cities, but all over the country there is an idea that something is radically wrong for so commercial a nation as this. It is not working, some have for the good of all. No one seems able to tell just what may come of it, but those who are conservative feel that the thing may right up before a great while. There are a large number of idle men throughout the country, some of them from necessity, and many because they prefer idleness to anything else. It is not that we are passing through quite a depressing period.

FRANKLIN CLEVELAND has written a timely letter upon the subject of the tariff. It was addressed to the Hon. Chauncey F. Black, President of the National Association of Dealers. In this letter the President urges immediate action upon this question. If the party shall retain that power hereafter committed to them at the polls, continual delay upon this question has created a feeling of distrust among the people everywhere, and the party cannot eventually pay the penalty if immediate action is not taken.

President Cleveland's associates have been slow to believe it, but it has become so plain that the party has failed its obligations in this regard that the question needs no argument. Congressmen and all others interested in the success of the Democracy should hasten to defend and bring about a reform of the tariff.

DEFENSES CANNOT BE CURED.

By local appliances, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are cured by catarrhs; which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness cured by catarrhs. We can be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Read for cures, free.

FIRE BUGS.

A House Is Set on Fire by an incendiary, at Preston, This County.

Preston, Ky. April, 25—Some narrow minded persons attempted to drive the store of Mrs. T. J. Bruner a few nights ago, but fortunately the blaze was discovered before any great damage was done. If the fire had gotten any headway, Dr. J. R. Bruner's adjacent dwelling and out buildings would have been in great danger.

Mrs. Bruner is a most estimable widow lady, and the entire neighborhood is increased at this cowardly act of incendiarianism. If the perpetrator could be discovered Judge Lynch would summarily dispose of him.

BURNED. A FIRE.

This Horrible Death Is Barely Escaped by Some Precious Jewels of Cloverport.

The Presbyterian Entertainment Is Nipped in the Bud by the Fire Flood.

Just As the Curtain Is About To Rise Screams of "Fire Fire!" Greet the Ear.

Men, Women and Children Make a Mad Rush for Life and Liberty and PILE OVER ONE-ANOTHER.

The greatest excitement that ever visited this city occurred last Friday night.

About 400 people—men, women and children had gathered in the Red Front Hall to witness the cantata, "Spring," the long promised entertainment for the benefit of the Presbyterian church building fund.

The spacious room was crowded, there hardly being standing room left. Gathered behind the curtain were a quarter of a hundred or more of sweet little girls and beautiful young ladies, the cherished flowers of Cloverport homes, dressed in gay fashions of the lovely spring time. The audience was anxiously awaiting the beginning of the entertainment. The bell had rung for the curtain to rise, and the spectators were craning their necks for the first glimpse of the brilliant loveliness that was about to be exposed to their anxious gaze.

Just at this interesting moment the placing luminous screams of "fire, fire, fire," and a great turmoil of rushing feet and promiscuous sounds from behind the curtain greeted the ears of the expectant audience. At first it was thought that this was the beginning of the legitimate program, but as the noise increased mingled with increasing screams of distress and a light sprang up behind the curtain with rapidly increasing brilliancy, they realized the distressing fact that the stage was actually on fire.

When this became apparent beyond a doubt, the scene in the hall began to describe. The large audience was on its feet as one person. A mad rush was made for the doors by a large part of the spectators, while others started for the stage to help save the children and extinguish the fire. There were three pairs of double doors at the entrance to the hall and these were all closed, opening inward. The rush was so great against the doors that at first they could not be opened. Finally some stout men forced the crowd far enough back to swing the nine doors open, and finding out they kicked in another pair, and the people began to pour out.

While this was transpiring at the door the scene back in the hall was a dangerous and distressing one. People were walking over the seats above each other about trying to get out. Men were hawking, women crying and fainting. Many were forced to their hands and knees while others were flat upon the floor, the screams for help upon the stage were increasing, while mothers were trying to help their lands and calling for help. "Fire, fire!" "water, water!" "Get out, get out, so we can fight the fire!" "Get back, don't crowd the doors, or somebody will be trampled to death!" "Help, help, my child, my darling babe is on that stage, will not someone save her? For God's sake save my baby!" This a faint description of the confusion that was reigning.

About this time the children began to burst through the curtain and pour over the edge of the stage like frightened fawns. They were seen to be in great danger and many of them were in the arms of strong men and carried aloft through the crowd to the street where they were deposited safe in the arms of distracted mothers. Others who were on the stage smashed the back with their hands and made their appearance in disheveled and ragged stage costumes among the throngs in the street.

The scene in the street in front of the hall was second only to that inside. Here people were seen to be in great danger and many of them were in the arms of strong men and carried aloft through the crowd to the street where they were deposited safe in the arms of distracted mothers. Value of patent rights and the value of territory in which to sell same, $100.

The value of brick, stone and other building material is placed at the ridiculously low value of $2,100.

We have the facilities for going on "jags" by being the happy possessors of whiskies, wines, brandies and mixtures thereof, not in distillery bonded warehouses, to the amount of $1,800, not counting what is sold away in the cellars, closets, stable lofts and fence corners of the Hardinsburg district.

There are 108 stores in the county, with stocks of goods and other property therein amounting to $100,045.

The property that is held for another for the purpose of sale on commission or otherwise, is valued at $10.

The value of all property not mentioned above, is $15,380.

The total assessed value of personal property is $615,720.

The total assessed value of lands and personal property is $3,066,520.

The total assessed value of town lots is $383,520.

Exemptions amount to $405,290.

And, finally, the grand total of all property assessed for taxation, is $5,000,125.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

OAKLAND.

Rain, rain, rain. Will it never stop?
Mr. Will DeHaven is ill at this writing.

Mr. Frank DeHaven has purchased a new piano.

Miss Winnie Stennett is teaching quite a successful school here.

Mr. Martha Hendrick is visiting her son, Mr. Lyle Miller, near Jolly.

Miss B. Miller, who has been visiting friends at Newellville, returned home Tuesday.

Rev. Breeding and wife, of Hardinsburg, visited at Mr. Charles Miller's last Sunday.

Miss Lettie Flock is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Miller in Hardinsburg.

Mr. Tice Miller, wife and children spent Sunday evening at Mr. Jesse Howard's.

Miss Becca Wilson, of Hardinsburg, was the guest of her sister, Miss Lettie Wilson, Sunday.

Mr. James Menor has moved into the property of his father-in-law, recently vacated by Mr. R. E. Kline.

Misses Elmore and Lora Frank contemplate a visit to relatives and friends near Rockport, Ind., soon.

Mr. Wm. Miller gave his niece, Mrs. Bill Miller, a fine horse a few days since. I hope he will be as generous with all his nieces.

Mr. Charles Miller has erected a new corn mill on a small stream near his home. It has been tried it say it cannot be surpassed.

We learn that Miss Nannie DeHaven failed to make her appearance at church Sunday. Wonder why. I guess there was a hook in the way.

Mr. Zennie Frank was breaking a colt last Sunday to work in his buggy. He, if you will allow me to quote the Rocky Mountain correspondent, "looked quite lonely."

There was quite a number disappointed here Sunday at Mr. Frank Oberholser, near Rhodolia, last Saturday. There seems to be some great attraction below as Miss Maud never returned with the crowd.

Mr. John Flannery must surely mean business, he comes up on Friday and stays until Monday. Seth Brown, his partner, looks desolate since the return of one of Jefferson county's fairest daughters.

One of our little debutantes seemed to get left one Sunday not long since. I believe some of the Gaston B-les are hard to beat. For one and some are, and I believe that is the general complaint with the girls.

Health good. The primary over and best of all Mr. Wm. Miller is the nominee for sheriff. It is the heart of one and all to think we who have to pay taxes, to pay to as fine a gentleman as Mr. Rhodes. He is liked by one and all.

The entertainment at Mr. R. A. Brown's the first Sunday was greatly enjoyed by one and all who attended. The report is that one of our best beloved sons was left, but never mind. I had a talk with his best girl she talks as though the same warm feeling still lingers in her heart for him.

In consequence of winter diet and lack of open air exercise, the whole physical mechanism becomes impaired. Ayer's Newspaper is the proper remedy in the spring of the year, to strengthen the appetite, invigorate the system, and expel all impurities from the blood.

A Big Agency.

The advertising agency of N. W. Ayer & Son, of Philadelphia, is unquestionably the largest and probably the best equipped of any in the United States. It has more and larger patrons than any other, and taking one thing with another, it is questionable whether they are not entitled to the credit of securing for their patrons better service than can be counted on from any other.

It should be, and doubtless is, a great source of pride and satisfaction to Mr. Ayer and Mr. McKinney that they have been able, while remaining in Philadelphia, to build up a larger advertising business than has ever been secured before by any advertising agency in New York or elsewhere.

THE TIRED BRAIN AND NERVES

Find Sweetest, Safest and Best Relief by using Dr. King's Royal Germetuer.

As a Nerve Tranquillizer and Tonic it never has been equalled.

Dr. L. D. Collins, Goldthwaite, Tex., says of it: "It is the finest Nerve Tranquillizer I have ever used."

L. C. Coulson, Deputy Clerk Jackson county, Ala., says: "I commend it for Nervous troubles above anything I have ever tried."

Geo. W. Armistead, Ed. The Isaac, Nashville, Tenn., says: "Germetuer is an invaluable Builder and Invigorator of the Nerve Force."

Hon. G. W. Banderlin, Ex-Auditor, N. C., now Ed Auditor Washington, D. C., says: "I have never found a better Nerve Tonic and General Invigorator."

Contains no Bromides, Cocaine, Chloral or other injurious drugs. Always safe for all ages and sexes.

$1.00 for $5.00. Sold by druggists. Manufactured only by King's Royal Germetuer Co., Atlanta, Ga.

There were quite a number of men in the legislature that board with their wives who tried to hold on to their dead clutch, but there were enough old teachers and big-hearted married men to allow the women of Kentucky a show for their while ally. Now, if a woman wants to marry a man and take him to raise, she doesn't have to turn over all her property rights and become a slave.

PAYNESVILLE.

Mrs. Eva Bradshaw is dangerously ill.

Mrs. Lucy Brown is convalescent at this writing.

Miss Mattie Chism is visiting her sister this week.

Rev. Father Herberth went to Brandenburg last Sunday.

Miss Little, Mattingly returned from Cloverport Monday.

Mr. L. C. Brown went to Ekron last Thursday on business.

Several of the boys were at a lot which way to go Sunday.

Miss Beulah Harris was visiting in this neighborhood last Sunday.

Miss Georgia Mattingly opened a spring school at Gaston Monday.

Misses Emma and Ernie Payne were the guests of Miss Alma King last Sunday.

Mr. Willott preached a very interesting sermon at the Baptist church Sunday.

Mr. Payton Brown and his little girl looked as bright and beautiful as a June rose, Sunday.

Mr. Payton Brown and Miss Adella Brown, of Louisville, attended church here last Sabbath.

Miss Mary B. Brown entertained some friends and relatives last Wednesday, it being her sixteenth birthday.

Mr. Tice Brown, our enterprising merchant, moved into the residence, formerly occupied by Dr. A. A. Baxter.

Miss Katie Herberth left one day last week for Chicago, we regret giving Miss Katie up as she was a regular musician.

Miss Beulah Brown and her little sister, Fannie were the guests of their cousin, Miss Annie Brown, one day last week.

Uncle Turner, that right hold on to your place, you will soon be ready for burning line kites, will also have a bonfire for a son-in-law.

Master Fred Smith, Gus Hardesty, Misses Ella and Maud Flarty attended the dance at Mr. Frank Oberholser, near Rhodolia, last Saturday. There seems to be some great attraction below as Miss Maud never returned with the crowd.

Mr. John Flannery must surely mean business, he comes up on Friday and stays until Monday. Seth Brown, his partner, looks desolate since the return of one of Jefferson county's fairest daughters.
